题号	内容
Question 1	Some universities will ask students to evaluate their professors at the end of the semester. Talk about the advantages or disadvantages of this policy.
Question 2	Some people prefer to travel by car, while others prefer to travel by public transportation such as bus. Which do you prefer and why? Use specific reasons and examples to support your response.
Question 3	Reading part	Listening part
	【学生倡议】 The university will prohibit riding bicycles on campus next semester: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Because there could be accidents;</li> <li>2. Instead, the school would provide free bus service.</li> </ol>	【学生态度】 The woman disagrees with the policy. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Accidents happen at night.</li> <li>2. It'll be inconvenient if students don't ride bicycles, plus free buses are not convenient.</li> </ol>
	Question: Explain the woman's opinion and why she holds that opinion.
Question 4	Reading part	Listening part
	【名词解释】 Short-term memory: a temporary storage of information. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. decay (not being used)</li> <li>2. interference (new information)</li> </ol>	【教授举例】 For example, you are out with your classmate and you want to dial someone's cell phone's number which you don't know. So you ask your classmate and call your friend. But after two hours when your friend are not with you, since the number has not been used after that, you couldn't remember and recall the number again because it has faded away. That's decay. The professor uses his own experience to illustrate interference. He went to the bookstore and made a list of the books he wanted, but he forgot to take it with him and left it in his car, but he thought he could remind himself of the books listed. However, when he ran into his friend in the bookstore and talked for a while, all he could remember is the book his friend mentioned that was quite interesting. The new information interfered with the original one. That's interference.
	Question: 用听力的例子来解释对这个概念的理解。

Question 5	【学生困难】 The man lent his mathematic book to his friend Ted, but the book got ruined, all soaked out when left outside. 【解决方案】 The woman suggests two possible solutions. The first one is to ask Ted to buy a new copy for him. But it's very expensive. The second one is to use the copy in the library as the professor put the material on reserved for them. But he can only read the book in the library.
	Question: 男生遇到什么困难, 有两种解决方案中, 你认为哪种好?
Question 6	【讲课要点】 Two types of animal groups that gather together for the purpose of protection The first one is complex group in which there are a lot of social interactions among group members. For example, a group of elephants, if an elephant gets injured, other elephants will take care of him, give him food and water, and nurse him to help him heal and recover. The second one is simple group in which there tend to be little interactions. For example, a group of fish, even though they gather together for protection, they don't really know each other. One fish even couldn't recognize the fish that is next to him. They don't interact with each other.
