Question 1	Do you agree or disagree with the following statement? We should help our friends only when they ask for help. Please use details and examples to explain your answer.
Question 2	Reading part 【学校通知】 Computer Repair Center should be open later. 1. Students could work and study longer in the evening. 2. It is not easy to find a computer repair staff.	Listening part 【学生态度】 In the conversation, the girl agrees with the plan. 1. The girl once had to finish her history paper, which was due time next day. However, her laptop collapsed and she handed her paper one day later. In the end, she got a very low score. 2. Computer major could have more work experience if the center could be open later. This experience would be very valuable when they are looking for a job.
	Question: Explain the girl's opinion and why she holds that opinion.
	Reading part 【名词解释】 Rational Ignorance: When people decide to buy something less important, they are not willing to take time and energy to consider carefully because they think it is not worthy.	Listening part 【教授举例】 The professor uses his own experience to illustrate this. When he bought his car, he spent a lot of time doing research. But when he bought batteries, even there are five brands and they are different in some ways, he didn't read the descriptions or ask sales questions. He just picked up the first one he saw and paid.
Question 3	Question: Using the example to explain the concept.
Question 4	【讲课要点】 The professor talks about two advantages of data testing. 1. feedback and improvement A camera company provides photographers with their new cameras. After trying out these new products, the photographers say its flash doesn't work quite well. If it could produce extra light, the quality of the photos will be much higher. The company takes back these products and fixes the flash.
	2. free advertising The photographers are satisfied with the new cameras and recommend to their friends and other people. This could be a free advertising.

Question 1	When in group discussion, some people prefer to give their opinions immediately, while others prefer to wait and listen to others' opinions before giving their own. Which one do you think is better?
Question 2	Reading part	Listening part
	【学校通知】 The university plans to cancel the right of students to visit the school garden. Reason 1: People always pick followers in the garden and this is the place only for researchers. Reason 2: Students can go to other places not far away to enjoy the scenery.	【学生态度】 The man disagrees. Reason 1: We do not know this is just for researchers. The university can put up rules and the students will obey them. Reason 2: Other parks are so far away from here and lots of students do not have cars to go there and the transportation is limited, so it is not easy to find one park like this.
	Question: Explain the man's opinion and why he holds that opinion.
Question 3	Reading part	Listening part
	【名词解释】 Indirect Mimicry: Animals may create an imitation which resembles them to have an opportunity to escape if being attacked by their predators.	【教授举例】 One New Zealand spider always collects long thin leaves because when these leaves dry, they look like the spiders a lot. The dry leaves become bright brown which may confuse the predators, like birds when passing the spiders' web. The birds are likely to attack the gathered leaves and the spider could have a chance to escape.
Question: Using the example to explain the concept.
Question 4	【讲课要点】 The professor introduces two types of internal constraints that may prevent businesses from doing well. Type 1: something related to equipment and other elements Example 1: When a supermarket just has old cashier register, it will take longer time to account and some customers will feel angry about waiting for such a long time. Type 2: lack of employee training Example 2: When a customer asks for the location of some goods and the employee shows the wrong direction, the customer will be so annoyed and leave without buying anything.
